Brian Fowler, of BFK Builders, takes a lot of pride in the work he does and says that when he leaves at the end of the day he knows his customers are 100% satisfied and will be able to enjoy the finished project for years to come with family and friends.

“Every day I look forward to new and exciting projects and the chance of meeting new people. The most important thing I have learned from my clients is that honesty and quality work are key to a successful business. A day at work for me is busy from start to finish and varies from day to day. I have been in Greenville all of my life and my father had a cabinet shop business. It was from him I learned most of my skills and business knowledge that have made my business successful.”

Fowler says his favorite thing about the Upstate is that it is a great place to raise a family and has a wonderful community of people. The father of three says on a day off he will most likely be enjoying that very gift by spending time with his wife and sons.
